We are happy that you are considering joining the science cohort. Due to the limited number of spaces that are available in the cohort for First-Year students, we ask that you complete and return the following application for consideration. Applications should be returned to Dr. Marie Turner by May 20, 2015 via email at mturner0902@curry.edu.

Please note if you plan to be a resident student, are accepted into the Science Scholars Cohort and plan to participate in the Program, as a member of this Scholars Cohort Program you will live together in Bell Hall, named after Alexander Graham Bell, the Chancellor of the School of Expression, Curry’s institutional precursor, from 1907 until his death in 1922. Students in this hall have access to a classroom for science classes and events, as well as group and individual study rooms. The room rates in Bell Hall are $9,261 for multiple occupancy and $11,381 for single occupancy which are increased rates over our standard room rates.

1. Why do you want to join the science cohort? What do you hope to get out of the experience?

2. What drew you to a major in the sciences? What do you hope to do with your science degree following graduation?

3. What skills, talents, and ideas do you think you would contribute to the science cohort Living Learning Community?
