DIVISION OF CONTINUING AND GRADUATE STUDIES

Winter Intersession 2019 – Fully Online Courses January 3 - January 20

AC 2764 Business Presentations 3 credits

Instructor: Noreen Carey

Focuses on both the communication and the technological aspects of presentations. Uses techniques such as audience analysis, message identification and outlining, to develop and present both individual and group projects. A personal delivery style, good articulation and effective use of visual aids are stressed. Microsoft PowerPoint is used to further enhance skills.

ACNT 1011 Managerial Accounting 3 credits

Instructor: TBD

An introduction to managerial accounting emphasizing how managers use accounting information to further organizational goals related to planning, controlling and decision-making. Topics include fundamental cost terminology, cost behavior, product costing, profit planning and budgeting, cost-volume-profit analysis, standard costs, segment reporting, differential analysis, and performance measurement techniques. Emphasis is also placed on the preparation and analysis of internal accounting reports. Ethical and international issues are discussed throughout. Required for Business Management majors. Prerequisite: ACNT 1010.

ACNT 2021 Business Entity Taxation 3 credits

Instructor: TBD

An examination of the U.S. Income Tax structure with an emphasis on the taxation of different taxable entities with extensive coverage on corporations. The course will also include an introduction to trusts, estates and gift tax, multinational tax transactions and state and local taxes. Research, analysis and planning of tax issues are also introduced.

BIOL/HW 2520 Nutrition 3 credits

Instructor: Marcia Richards

Introduces students to the basics of human nutrition. Macro and micronutrients are studied regarding their role in human physiology and health. The relationship between the foods we eat and the nutrients derived from them are explored through the study of digestion and absorption. Nutrition during the various life stages and evidence-based research regarding the role of nutrients and disease prevention are also discussed. Students are able to apply concepts learned by assessing the adequacy of their own diets and by investigating a current nutrition topic. Prerequisite: Any 3- or 4- credit BIOL, CHEM, or SCI course and permission of the instructor.

CJ 2000 Criminology 3 credits

Instructor: Rebecca Cudmore

Introduces the student to the major theoretical perspectives and issues that characterize contemporary criminal justice thinking about the causes of crime, offenders, and victims/ survivors; efforts to prevent crime; and the manner in which offenders are punished and/or rehabilitated. Emphasis will be placed on defining crime and the social contexts in which crime occurs. Prerequisite: CJ 1000.

COM 2020 Intercultural Communication 3 credits

Instructor: Nina Hofman

This course will emphasize what happens when members of different cultures interact face-to-face, either casually or in organizational settings. It will focus on the communication behaviors and values common to all cultures and on the differences that divide people. Students will learn to overcome intercultural communication problems by learning how to understand and respect these cultural differences. This course meets the General Education International/Global Interdependence requirement or the General Education Diversity requirement. Prerequisite: COM 1010.

Winter Intersession 2019 – Fully Online Courses January 3 - January 20

COM 2150 Health Communication 3 credits

Instructor: Kirsten Whitten

Effective communication plays a key role in every aspect of the health care delivery process. This introductory course explores the communication needs of health care and health promotion and examines current issues and problems in the modern health care system. It identifies strategies and tactics that health care communicators, health care providers, and others employed in health care or related fields can use to improve communications with patients, families, other health professionals, the media, and the general public. Prerequisite: COM 1010.

ENG 2300 Creative Writing I 3 credits

Instructor: Susan Nagelsen

Explores in theory and practice the nature, value and the techniques of prose and poetry writing. This course meets the General Education Arts Breadth and Reading/Writing Enhancement requirements. Prerequisite: Six (6) credits of Writing/English at the 1000-level.

ENG 2820 Modern Poetry 3 credits

Instructor: Lindsay Illich

The reading and analysis of twentieth-century and contemporary American poetry provide a springboard for writing in both traditional and experimental forms. Prerequisite: Six (6) credits of Writing/English at the 1000-level.

EXP 2340 Intro to Experiential Learning 3 credits

Instructor: Ryan Theroux

Introduction to Experiential Learning is a pre-requisite course for students interested in pursuing an internship. Students who are interested in participating in an internship in the near future should enroll in this course. Topics include goal setting, internship requirements and professionalism.

HW 1000 Personal Health 3 credits

Instructor: Melissa Weinstein

This course will introduce the student to all the major areas of health and how they affect their lives. Health promotion, wellness and empowerment will be discussed and analyzed in relation to each health component. Upon completion of this course, students will have a better understanding of the importance their personal decisions make on their health. This course meets the General Education Wellness requirement.

HW 2150 Holistic Health 3 credits

Instructor: Katherine Morrison

This course will introduce and explore the concepts of holistic health and its philosophical underpinnings. Sample issues include trends in holistic health care, the science of holistic health, views of health and wellness, examination of the impact of Western and non-Western values and belief systems, creation of healthier workplaces with holism, critical assessment of research and evaluation of treatment options. Selected integrative health modalities will be explored. Issues will be studied with both a personal wellness focus and a focus on working with health care consumers for wellness promotion. Discussion, writing, reading, and reflective practice will be the main learning activities. It is recommended that the student have completed HW 1000 prior to taking this course.

MATH 1150 Statistics 3 credits

Instructor: Tom Gorsuch

Explores the collection, organization, analysis, and inference of data in multiple contexts through statistical methods. Requires students to discuss quantitative results, interpret multiple representations (symbolic, graphical, numerical, verbal) of quantitative information, and solve problems using quantitative methods, particularly linear regression and correlation, the construction of confidence intervals, and tests of hypotheses. This course meets the General Education First Year Core Quantitative Literacy requirement. Prerequisite: Successful completion of MATH 1000 or demonstrated proficiency on the Mathematics Assessment.

MGT 2520 Marketing Management 3 credits

Instructor: TBA

Develops an understanding of marketing problems and emphasizes the dynamics of successful decision-making. The vital relationships of selling, advertising, pricing, and channels of distribution are analyzed in the light of consumer and marketing behavior. Required for Business Management majors.

Prerequisite: MGT 1500 or MGT 1510.

MGT 2610 Crisis Management 3 credits

Instructor: TBA

Course will examine the challenge posed by rapid and uncertain change, particularly as a response to threats posed by domestic and international terrorism and internal crises in the workplace. Through analyzing risk, decision-making, and planning, students will use structured exercises to strategically react and plan solutions in rapid change situations. Skills needed for situational analysis, forecasting, and managing organizational responses to dramatic change will be identified.

MGT 2820 Personal Finance 3 credits

Instructor: TBA

An in-depth study of personal financial decisions, which the average person can expect to confront using the life-cycle approach. Emphasis throughout the course is given to applying theoretical knowledge to practical consumer-oriented problems in financial planning which must be addressed in an attempt to achieve a chosen life style. Prerequisite: Math Assessment.

MGT 3950 Business Ethics 3 credits

Instructor: TBA

Explores ethical concepts and issues related to management. Case analysis and problem-solving skills are further developed in order to comprehend the ethical and legal dimensions of business relationships: employer to employee, manager to stockholder, producer to consumer, corporation to the environment. Be forewarned: this is a journey that will cross into the dark side of business and management practices. Individual goals within the context of MGT 3950 include: to gain insight into the impact of your values/ethics on peers; to learn to explain and defend positions taken by means of solid case analysis, synthesis of facts, logical thinking and persuasion; to develop a tolerance for diverse values or ethics. Required for Business Management majors. Prerequisites: Most 2000-level prerequisite and major core requirements. (May be taken concurrently with MGT 3930 and MGT 3980).

PRS 2210 Ethics 3 credits

Instructor: William Barnes

Ethics is the study of human and humane activity, an inquiry into the determination of the will. This course examines major theories that describe and set norms for forming moral judgments. Questions raised will include: Are humans inherently selfish? How does one decide the correct path – by predicting the consequences of actions or by examining the actions themselves? A portion of the course is devoted to recent developments in virtue theory, and ancient tradition that examines the intentions of the moral agent rather than consequences or acts. This course meets the General Education Humanities Breadth and Reading/ Writing enhancement requirements.

PSY 2090 Personality 3 credits

Instructor: Elizabeth Carey

This course examines several theoretical perspectives on the development of personality and abnormal behavior. This course reviews both historical and current trends in personality psychology (from phrenology to constructivism) and encourages students to understand the social climate that may shape the dominant beliefs of the personality psychologists. Prerequisite: PSY 1030.

PSY 2330 Drugs and Behavior 3 credits

Instructor: Ann Leonard-Zabel

A survey of psychoactive drugs emphasizing the social, psychological, and legal context of drug use. Four major aspects of use will include drug definitions, drug effects, drug related behavior and the drug experience throughout history. Discussion of prevention and treatment of drug abuse as well as social control of drug use will be included. Prerequisite: PSY 1030.

PSY 3350 Health Psychology 3 credits

Instructor: Elizabeth Carey

This course critically examines the history of health psychology, major theories in the field and methods of applying health psychology knowledge to promoting health and preventing disease. Particular attention will be given to the roles of individual, social, cultural and economic factors. Topics include global communicable and chronic diseases, stress and coping, HIV and AIDS, risky behaviors, cardiovascular disease, chronic pain, and cancer. Prerequisite: Any 2000-level PSY course.

Winter Intersession Financial and Academic Policies

Tuition Cost

Winter Tuition for fully online classes: $442/credit

Refund Policy

Full refunds will be made only if a course is cancelled; if a student withdraws from a course before the course begins; or, if it is confirmed by the end of the add-drop period that the student has not attended.

The following refund policies apply to hybrid, and fully online courses:

If student drops before January 6, 75% refund. After this deadline, students are financially responsible for the full cost of the course.

Add/Drop

You must contact the Continuing and Graduate Studies Office to add or drop a course. Permission to add an intersession course after the start day varies from class to class. Contact the Office of Continuing and Graduate Studies to inquire about adding a specific class. Students who want to drop a course from their schedule must do so prior to the start of the term. A student is financially responsible for any course(s) that are not officially dropped before the first day of the course.

Grade/Pass/Fail

Only Continuing Education courses outside of the student's major may be declared Pass/Fail. Only one course each semester may be graded in this manner. The deadline for declaring is the same as the withdrawal deadlines outlined in the Key Dates section. Please request the form from any Continuing and Graduate Studies Office.

Withdrawal

You must contact the Continuing and Graduate Studies Office to withdraw from a course. Students will receive a "W" for a grade. Please refer to the Refund Policy section of this Schedule Guide for specific withdrawal deadlines.
