

CURRY COLLEGE

EXCELLENCE IN PARTNERSHIPS AND COLLABORATION AWARD

Dr. Mia Khera, Psychology

PUBLICATIONS:

- Khera, G. S. & Ahluwalia, M. (2021). The cultural closet: The South Asian American experience of keeping romantic relationships secret. Journal of Multicultural Counseling and Development, 49(1), 18-31.
 - o This is groundbreaking research presenting a theory that many South Asians/Indian Americans have experienced. This was a paper that took many years to write, and many summers and winter breaks I gave up "freetime" to get this out the door.

GUEST EDITING:

- Kim, G. S., Tran, N., Nakamura, N., Khera, G. S., AhnAllen, J. M., & Estrellado, J. (in preparation, manuscripts in process of third revise and resubmit). Creating New AAPI Narratives: From Stereotypes to Social Justice. Special Issue of Asian American Journal of Psychology.
 - o This has been a very involved research undertaking. Each of us serving as guest editor, are the action editor for two peer reviewed articles, in addition we are the reviewer for 2 other articles. During the past year I have reviewed 4 articles, 3 times, in addition to the article we are writing to be the overarching piece to this issue.

PARTNERSHIPS AND COLLABORATION:

Collaborating and partnering with scholars at 6 different institutions over the past 5 years, conducting research, giving presentations, writing papers and guest editing a journal.
