

Healthcare documentation for an Emotional Support Animal

The student has indicated that you are the licensed mental healthcare provider who has worked with them and support the need to have an Emotional Support Animal (ESA) in the residence hall in order to alleviate one or more of the identified symptoms or effects of the student’s psychological disability. In order to evaluate the request for this accommodation, please answer the questions below. Please know that by providing this information, you are verifying this student’s psychological disability and that the presence of the animal addresses that disability. If you find you’re unable to fit your responses, please feel free to attach a separate page.

An Emotional Support Animal (ESA) is an assistance animal that provides therapeutic emotional support to an individual with a psychiatric disability. An ESA is not considered a pet, and an ESA is not a service animal. Please review the American Counseling Association’s Emotional Support Animals and Human Animal Interventions in Counseling Interest Network Position Statement.

Per your certifying or licensing entity and code of professional ethics and boundaries, please reflect on and answer the following questions. Please feel free to attach additional information as needed.
